Book Review | SOMETHING FOR EVERYONE

Seven Things that can "Make or Break" a Sweater™

by Margaret E. Fisher

Vanduki Press 2008

ISBN 978-0-9814986-0-7

Margaret has been a frequent instructor at fiber events, including TKGGA's own Knit & Crochet Shows, and her class that this book is based upon is always a sellout. As she completed TKGGA's Master Hand Knitting Program (MHKP) in 1997, and later became a member and then co-chair of the committee that reviews others' submissions to the MHKP, Margaret realized the same questions were being asked by many program participants as well as students in classes. She identified seven specific techniques and methods that affect the outcome when you are knitting a sweater, regardless of the design or style of that garment. In each chapter of her book, Margaret focuses on one of these seven things. Of course, these same techniques can be applied to other projects as well.

Each of the seven things is accompanied by multiple examples, complete with vivid photographs and detailed instructions. These will guide any level of knitter through the techniques common to sweater knitting, including evenly spacing increases in ribbing, slanting decreases and picking up stitches for bands. You will want to add this book to your library so you can have Margaret's expert advice at your fingertips wherever you are working on that perfect sweater!
